We provide a personalized, private photoshoot experience from start to finish—planning and consultations, an on-site professional makeup artist, pose coaching throughout the entire shoot as well as custom, professional-grade photo products.

The photoshoot session price (sitting fee) covers the photoshoot production only: including our experienced posing and facial expression coaching, the time and talent of the photographer, and a professional, licensed makeup artist, as well as the first round of image processing for proofing and ordering.

We are a fine art portrait studio, so products are purchased separately, a la carte: Photo Retouching, Photo Book Design, Albums, & Prints are additional, and purchased after the proofing gallery is ready. 💕

Common Questions:

Do I bring my own outfits?

Yes, we ask that you bring your own outfits that way we know it fits correctly. We do have a few accessory options at the studio you are welcome to use—please inquire to find out more.

Can you help me figure out my outfits?

Yes! After you book your session, you will be given a link to review our Pre-Shoot Guide. You will find info about the play-by-play of the session, tons of outfit ideas, tips and tricks and a pre-shoot checklist. Lindsay is also available for complimentary, in-person consultations at the studio if you think you need more one-on-one planning.

Do you offer packages?

We offer a la carte products, that way you can essentially create your own package, order as many photos as you want, and the exact products you want. We don't want to limit you to certain items like those in 'packages'—with us, you have the ability to purchase just 1 image or even all the images!

How long will the whole session take?

Depending on the session you're doing, from makeup and start to finish, the session can take anywhere from 2 hours to 3 hours. Over the years, we have found that this is the perfect amount of time for sessions—boudoir shoots can actually be quite tiring on you if too long—and we definitely don't want you looking exhausted in your photos!

How many photos will I see in my gallery?

Depending on the session you're doing—about 65-100 images with a color and black and white version of each—so including each black and white image version, you will view about 130-200 images total.

What kind of editing can you do?

Your photos are in the hands of a trained graphic designer, so don't worry about any blemishes, scars, cellulite, bruises, small tattoos, etc. As a matter of fact, they may not even be visible in the photos due to our talented makeup artists, lighting treatments and pro equipment. Our job throughout the shoot is to get the photos as close to perfect as possible straight off the camera. However, any little details that us girls always notice about ourselves can be edited in post-production. We definitely want the photos to look like you, just the glamorous version!

What is the total turnaround time?

The turnaround time depends on the product(s) you order. Some options are as quick as a few days, and others such as photo books, take a few weeks. Rush options are available, please inquire to find out more.

Can I just buy a CD of all my images?

We are a fine art portrait studio, so no, we do not "shoot and burn." Along with our pose coaching, we are known for our carefully crafted album design and image retouching to create timeless portrait keepsakes.
